ADA signs identity and wayfinding

Meeting the standards of the Americans with Disabilities Act while maintaining high standards for quality is a task that requires strong methodologies and attention to detail. More importantly, the fabricator must be committed both to developing new projects and maintaining consistency with ongoing replacement and system expansion. Bluebird has built a strong internal team to manage identity and wayfinding projects from initial documentation to final installation.

our capabilities include

Code Review

Whether we receive the project through a bid or develop based on guidelines, Bluebird will undertake a full compliance review.

Documentation

All our projects arrive with exact documentation outlining every sign in the program and a message schedule that can be used for ongoing sign management. We can also integrate our documentation into larger architectural and guidelines packages.

3D ADA Printing

With our 3D printers we can print tactile letters and braille on a number of different materials. Our printers can also incorporate a full range of colors and graphics into the sign.

Prototypes

For every project, we prototype signs extensively to ensure the correct specifications are being met.

Installation

Our installation teams can manage implementation wherever our clients need us to be.
